

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PART II.

LONDON: WILLIAM MACINTOSH,
 24, PATERNOSTER ROW;
 AND ALL BOOKSELLERS.
 1872.

OPINIONS OF THE BISHOPS, THE CLERGY, AND THE PRESS.

"It is a book which, I think, will prove extremely useful to the Clergy in general."

"They seem to be well and carefully prepared, and will, I have no doubt, be very useful."

"This very useful work appears to have been a very excellent conception, and certainly will be a most serviceable and suggestive guide to the Clergy."

"I shall have much pleasure in recommending the work to the Clergy."

"It appears to be well calculated to be of much service in preparing suitable subjects either for the Pulpit or the Schoolroom."

"A really valuable publication, especially to overworked Clergymen. I will do my best to promote its circulation. In doing so, I feel that the purchasers will be more obliged than the owner."

"I welcomed the book directly I had looked into it, as supplying what the Clergy, at the present conjuncture especially, will find most useful. It has already proved so to myself: and if you will send a copy of it to —, I will direct his Grace's attention to it, and inform him of the aid it has afforded me. I will also commend it to my brother Chaplains and the Clergy of my Rural Deanery."

[N.B.—Not having asked permission of the writers of the above extracts, the Author does not feel at liberty to publish their names.]

"It will be found very useful as being what it professes to be."—Guardian, Mar. 6, 1872.

"This is a very useful epitome of suggestive subjects."—Standard, Feb. 16, 1872.

"A praiseworthy attempt at epitomising the leading subjects suggested by the Psalms, Lessons, etc.—so that the preacher may see at a glance what kind of sermon will be in harmony with any particular service."—Church Times, Mar. 8, 1872.

"A novel kind of sermon-help, and one to be very much recommended."—The Literary Churchman, April 13, 1872.

"The author has in this publication rendered the Church great service."—The Age We Live In, Mar. 2, 1872.

"Such a manual must be of use to the young Clergyman, and sometimes to the wearied, heart-stricken pastor who, tired and weary with labour, thinks anxiously of a subject for the Sunday sermon."—Leamington Courier, May 4, 1872.

"To the liturgical student it will also be of great value."—Public Opinion, April 26, 1872.

"Indices Ecclesiæ is a little pamphlet which will prove serviceable to Clergymen who wish to make the services they conduct homogeneous."—Watchman, Feb. 7, 1872.

Indices Ecclesiarum.

PART II.

1 JULY TO DECEMBER 31,
1872.

The publication of Part II. properly requires no preface ; but the Author gladly takes this opportunity of expressing his best acknowledgments to the Bishops, the Clergy, and the Public Press, for the uniform encouragement which Part I. of the "INDICES" has received.

In subsequent editions of this book, the leading subjects in both Lessons and in both Lectionaries (now to be found in Index No. 1 only) will also be introduced into Indices Nos. 2 and 3, and a constant endeavour will be made to attain a more matured précis of the Lessons and a closer adaptation from the Hymnals. The Author trusts, by these and other means, to render the work at once a welcome and ultimately an indispensable companion for the Reading Desk, the Study, the Sunday School, and at home.

The present additions to the body of the work consist of the Index No. 3, and a few extracts from Dr. Blunt upon the advantages of harmonising the teaching from the Pulpit with that from the Desk,—in other words, the Sermon with the Lections.

The Edition for 1873 will be published early in December—to be followed by Skeleton Sermons, illustrative of the Sunday subjects.

Deo Gloria.

REMARKS ON THE COMPOSITION OF SERMONS.*

BY THE REV. J. J. BLUNT,
LADY MARGARET PROFESSOR OF DIVINITY AT THE UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE.

Selected by the Author of the "Indices."

"I would propose to you as a further guide for the choice of your texts, that they should be taken as often as convenient from some portion of Scripture used in the Service of the day, or at least fall in with the Service,—if always, all the better." (Page 158.)

"There are other advantages resulting from this practice of adapting our Sermons to the portions of Scripture selected for the day. Our Services are so framed, the portions of Scripture to be read are so selected, that in the course of the year the whole faith and duty of a Christian is by turns brought before the congregation; and the Preacher, by thus falling in with the several items as they successively come up, will have failed in no important particular of his office: his Sermons will have thus comprised a complete round of instruction; and he will have defrauded his people, whether from inadvertency or otherwise, of nothing essential to them." (Page 159.)

"Further still, the Preacher will often find it necessary to give very specific warnings from his pulpit against one error or another." (Page 160.)

"Now he will often do well to wait, on these occasions, till the Service of the day (for which he is thus in the habit of finding his Sermon) naturally, in the course of things, leads him to make such pointed reflections." (Page 160.)

"A wise man will hold his tongue till he see opportunity, but a babbler and a fool will regard no time."†

At Patra, in Achaia, he was scourged and tied to a cross. After lingering in agony for two days, he expired preaching to the people. Tradition states that his remains, interred in Byzantium, were subsequently conveyed from Byzantium into Fifeshire. This may account for S. Andrew becoming the tutelary saint of Scotland.
